

Olave 2019 News

www.olave.org.uk

CAMPFIRE'S BURNING, ANYONE FOR 'SMORE?'

Members from St Vincent and the Grenadines, Rangers from Lucan Ireland and other members got us all singing and dancing at the campfire last night.

Sun and Stars activities were also underway with the spider mountain and exploring the cave bus. Other Guides spent the evening relaxing at the cinema. Campfire songs could be heard across the site as sub camps were winding down for the evening.

Overheard at Olave

Guide 1: "My pee is about a 7...!"
Guide 2: "Oh wow, that's really high!"

Happy Birthday!

Iris, 11, Golden Sands.
Darcey, 12, Turquoise Turtles.
Airi, 17, Silver Sharks.
Rosemary and Julia, Rainbow Fish.
And to Sam and Christine for yesterday!

Sussex Diner Says...

If you are out all day don't forget to bring your day bag to breakfast for your packed lunch. Please don't use the drink station for washing your cup. Help with washing up always welcome...even just for 30 mins. Bon Appetite!

WEATHER

Met Office: 19° 16°
Tuesday 30th July
Sunny and showers.

NOTICES

Leaders: No pre-ordering Olave programme badges on Open Day because the shop will be busy.
Lost property: please pick up at admin.
Remember to take your rubbish with you.

JOKE OF THE DAY

What's brown hairy, and wears sunglasses?
A coconut on vacation!

Guides: ‘Fish you were here!’

For some sub camps a more relaxing day on site whilst the others embarked on their sea side Voyage of Discovery

Down at Coral Reef there were mocktails, yoga classes, and footbaths for relaxing. Plus outdoor fun with a slip and slide, sand castle building, and a paddling pool! Participants also lounged around in the giant deck chair.

Red Riptides relaxing in the giant deck chair

Pink Flamingo Poem

The subcamp Pink Flamingo Guides,
 Who are always ready to mix and mingle,
 With a mixture of Caribbean and British,
 We share the same language which is English.
 Standing tall together,
 We're a large flock of pink feathers,
 Ready to go on any adventure,
 Pink flamingos on their venture.
 By Camille, Jélanca, Jirahmae, Khyala

Listen to the Olave Podcast!

Listen on Spotify when you get home: just search ‘Olave 2019’ for a chat with Golden Sands, an audio mix of the first couple of days and more to come.

WANT TO WRITE FOR THE NEWSPAPER?

Contribute an article, photo or drawing (you can use the postcards at the Beach Hut Studios).

MAKE YOUR OWN PODCAST AT THE BEACH HUT STUDIOS

Pop along to the Beach Hut Studios to record a podcast, or record your interview with an Olave Pearl about their first time at camp.

Opening times: Tuesday OPEN DAY flexible opening times

